

She was my best friend

The daylight train comes so slowly

And now it's so easy to see

Why every night

She sleeps so tight

She gave me comfort

Made me smile

She was my best friend for a while.

Will I ever know her again

That daylight dream of mine.

She comes with the sun

In the morning sun

We shared the mystery of her power

She was an angel in my darkest hour.

As I close my eyes

I can see her face

Feel inside her rhythm

I can feel her warm embrace.

She comes with the sun

In the morning time

She gave me comfort

Made me smile.

She was my best friend for a while.
