

Heartbeat

Is it a crime to love a woman,
To give her everything ?
People change, she goes away
And you're left with nothing.
You've been together for so long,
That's making it hard,
Just like an old fashioned blues
You cry some tears and you move along.

In your arms I was singing
Now my ears are ringing to your heart beat for another man
Your heart-beat

Can you believe in love again
When you've been burned through and through ?
Having to start with an open heart
Leaves a lot to lose.
'Cause you've been together for so long,
That's what's makin' it hard,
Just like an old fashioned blues
You cry some tears, move along.

In your arms I was singing

Now my ears are ringing to your heart beat for another man

In your arms I was singing

Now my ears are ringing

To hear your heart beat for another man.
